

PRESS RELEASE

SOME OF THE FINEST VIEWS ACROSS LONDON FROM THE LONDON SUITES – LAUNCHING MAY 2015 AT THE MARYLEBONE HOTEL

Three new signature suites will complement a major redesign at London's Marylebone Hotel including the new '108 Brasserie' and a restyling of the public areas

In May 2015 The London Suites at The Marylebone Hotel will be unveiled. A collection of stylish, large and modern suites in the heart of the city, the suites offer unrivalled views over the rooftops and chimney pots of Marylebone and Mayfair all the way to The Shard and beyond. Featuring huge terraces with retractable roofs and luxurious interiors, the new suites encapsulate everything that a modern traveller loves about Marylebone - London's most glamorous urban village.

Located in London's ultra-fashionable Marylebone village, The Marylebone is a hotel full of character and charm perfectly situated to explore this vibrant area's unique boutiques, restaurants and buzzing cafes. Located between the beautiful townhouses of Welbeck Street and trendy Marylebone Lane, the hotel comprises 257 guest rooms including 44 suites including the three new London Suites.

In addition there will be a redesign of the hotel's extensive lobby and public areas following the recent launch of 108 Brasserie – the hotel's popular restaurant and bar that spills out onto Marylebone Lane. 108 Brasserie, along with 108 Pantry, has been decorated in a subtle and chic style and specialises in British cuisine using fresh produce from local suppliers, served in a contemporary and stylish setting.

The redesign has been undertaken to reflect the changing style of the Marylebone area – a destination that is becoming the place to be seen by those in the know in the capital.

The largest of the suites – The Marylebone – is 860 square feet and is decorated using a sophisticated palette of linens, wools and silks, and finished in limed American oak with polished brass detailing. The dual aspect lounge has a concealed 60" mirrored TV and a separate dining area with access to a private bar. The suite's spectacular terrace expands to 430 square feet and boasts its own fireplace, outdoor TV and a bespoke retractable roof meaning that it can be used both as an interior and exterior space throughout the year depending on the weather. The beautiful Porta Romana bedside lamps and classic Julian Chichester dining table bring creativity to the suite and complement the interior fabrics while the personally curated book collection creates a sense of home. The Marylebone Suite is ideal for longer stays in the city and with the terrace is the perfect place to entertain for a party or intimate drinks.

The two other suites are named after local streets - the Wimpole and the Harley. Both have contemporary styling with rich hardwood flooring and arabascato marble as well as individually-covered 215 square foot terraces that can be merged together for families or to host private parties. All 3 suites can interconnect via staircase and terrace.

All guests of the London Suites will have in-room registration and a dedicated point of contact available 24 hours a day for their stay. Soft drinks, snacks, chocolates and bespoke pastries (sourced from Marylebone Village patisserie) from the fridge are complimentary; guests can choose from a selection of 20 different teas and coffees from the Rare Tea Company and Nespresso selections. Other complimentary amenities include fresh flowers, a bottle of Champagne on arrival, and newspaper of choice delivered daily. Minibars in the suites will be stocked with London produced Firefly natural drinks, Jax Coco coconut water and other treats from the Dormen Food Company.

The hotel offers extensive conference facilities as well as the Drawing Room - a great venue for a private dinner or a movie. Guests also have complimentary access to the hotel's Third Space gym offering an extensive programme of fitness classes and 18m heated indoor swimming pool. The hotel is also close to the excitement and buzz of Oxford St, the high octane pulse of Bond Street, and the open green spaces of Regents Park which are just a short jog away.

Superior Room rates start from £225 per night. The Marylebone Suite is £1500 per night inclusive of VAT and full breakfast, while the Wimpole and Harley Suites are £1000 per night inclusive of VAT and full breakfast.
