This June marks Scott Dunn's first steps into retail with the opening of its brand new Travel Lounge at its Head Offices in Fulham, London. The new lounge will enable prospective guests to come and discuss their holiday plans with one of Scott Dunn's expert Travel Consultants over a cup of tea or glass of Champagne.

With iPads to showcase destinations and a play area to keep the kids entertained, Scott Dunn's team of experts will chat guests through the endless possibilities from its global portfolio in a relaxed and comfortable environment. Ranging from luxury ski chalets and the renowned Mediterranean villa offering, to a vast portfolio of bespoke itineraries, there is never a shortage of holiday ideas to talk about.

Graham Horner, Sales & Marketing Director at Scott Dunn, commented; "All holidays start out as a dream and the booking process is about turning those dreams into reality. In an age when booking can be reduced to a single click on a website, our Travel Lounge is all about making the planning of your holiday a truly personalised and indulgent experience - an occasion in its own right. Our Travel Consultants' passion is infectious and our guests know that time spent with them will be rewarded with truly unique and amazing holidays."

Other recent developments at Scott Dunn include the expansion of its hugely successful Explorers kids club portfolio; with two new clubs now available at NIYAMA in the Maldives and Eagles Palace in Halkidiki, Greece. The luxury tailor made tour operator has recently launched its new Teens brochure and portfolio and further announced its exciting new partnership with MasterChef 2014 champion, Ping Coombes. Available at Scott Dunn's villas and Explorers kids clubs, Ping has designed delicious dishes for the new menus, which will be specially prepared by Scott Dunn's expert chefs and nannies.
